

The Orangeburg Times.
EVERY SATURDAY MORNING
Terms of Subscription.
One Copy One Year.....$2 00
Six Months.....1 00

Rates of Advertising.
One Square 1st Insertion.....$1 50
Each Subsequent ".....1 00
Notices inserted in Local Column at 25c per Line.
All Subscriptions and Transient Advertisements to be paid for in Advance.
No Receipts for Subscriptions or Advertisements are Valid unless Signed by Business Manager.

We are in no way responsible for the views or opinions of our Correspondents.

Harrah for Hampton, Democracy & Home Rule!
State Ticket and Victory!

FOR GOVERNOR WADE HAMPTON.

Lieutenant Governor W. D. SIMPSON.

Secretary of State W. D. SIMS.

Attorney General LEROY E. YOUNG.

Comptroller General JOHNSON HAGOOD.

State Treasurer
S. L. LEAPHANT.

Superintendent of Education HUGH S. THOMPSON.

Adjutant and Inspector General E. M. MOISE.

FOR CONGRESS
Hon. AL. P. O'CONNOR.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 31, 1878.

"We Pledge Ourselves to Protect the Persons, Rights and Property
Of all the People."

This pledge was inscribed upon the platform of 1876 by the State Democratic Convention and is repeated in that of the present campaign, and with what faith it has been kept by the Judiciary department of the government as well as the Executive, the News and Courier proves by a well timed editorial based upon information obtained direct from every Judge save Judge Shaw, who was too ill to answer the inquiries. Such shot thrown into the enemy's camp strikes with telling effect, not only in confirming the rank and file of Radicalism, but sets every man to thinking who honestly entertains Republican views and yet desires a good government and the perfect equality of all our citizens before the law. With such a plain statement of facts, can an honest man longer halt between the parties, or with hold his support from an administration which gives beyond successful contradiction the greatest protection to the persons, rights and property of our citizens.

Judge Presley reports but a single criminal case perpetrated by a white man against a colored person. Judge Aldrich says, "where one outrage has been committed by a white man against a negro, ten outrages of colored persons upon whites can readily be enumerated," and where "negroes were defendants, they rejected every colored juror, performing a white jury."

Judge Hudson does not remember of trying but one case of crime or violence committed by a white man upon or against a colored person and that one was in self defence. Instances of violence upon blacks are very rare and "there is marked diminution of crime since Hampton's installation."

Judge Kershaw asserts that "not one of the cases on the Circuit involved a breach of the peace on the part of a white man upon a colored man." The improvement in the condition of the State has been the subject of general remark.

Judge Mackey says, "In a circuit of an area of 3,500 square miles and a population of 100,000, not one negro has lost his life at the hands of a white man during the past nineteen months." "Since the inauguration of Gov Hampton the proportion of crime to population, in the sixth circuit, has been far less than in any New England state."

Judge Wallace says that the decrease of crime of all grades in the State has been so great and pervading and a better understanding has been developed between the two races.

Judge Thompson does not remember a case of violence by a white man upon a colored person and finds that aggressions by whites upon the person or property of colored persons are comparatively rare." Finally crime is diminishing.

We publish on our out-side today the address of the State Democratic Committee, and trust that every reader will not only imbibe its spirit, but make every effort to influence others that it may be the rule of their action also. In very nearly every county there seems to be some trouble, whether in Convention or Primary counties, and something is absolutely necessary to keep up party discipline. If the dissatisfaction which exists in Primary counties is to cause a split, and if the objections which are urged against conventions are to create a division in these counties adopting that system, then the cause of Democracy will fail and the state, with her citizens, their rights and property, will be again turned over into the hands of Radicals, who know better how to steal than to govern, and will deal out justice to our citizens in proportion to the number of dollars they pay for it.

We take it that there are enough Radicals in every county, who, by uniting with the disaffected Democrats, can elect their ticket, and predict that they will do it, if this abnormal condition continues. The few Democrats elected on the Radical ticket, will not long continue their adherence to their old principles, but, by force of attraction from a greater body, will be merged into the Radical party or be absorbed by it. This our enemies know, and, if they can breed contention and dissatisfaction in our ranks, will do it with no other aim than to absorb their Democratic allies and thus control the State. If such a thing be at all probable (and no one can doubt it) how unwise is it for any portion of our party to allow petty differences to drive them to a course of conduct which will certainly destroy Democratic power and defeat the ends of good government in South Carolina. The mere fact of a man, thus elected, being a Democrat does not shield him from the approbrium which will inevitably attach to such a course of conduct.

The Democratic party previous to 1876 were in a hopeless minority, and the success of the last campaign was achieved only by bringing to bear all our available influence upon the colored people. Continued success now can only be maintained by keeping our ranks unbroken; and any insubordination on the part of our members at this crisis will prove fatal to the cause of honest government. Any movement looking to a union with the Radical party will be about as wise as a man giving his most bitter enemy a stick to break his own head.

We would rejoice to see the day when any man, who felt so disposed, could put his name before the people for their suffrages, but this cannot be the case where two great parties, as antagonistic in their aims as the Democratic and Radical, are striving for the mastery. More especially is this true when the stronger has a record of accused perjury, corruption and crime, and the weaker of events as noble and honorable as ever made a people proud of their history.

Surely, therefore, our people will not allow petty differences, founded upon personal hatred, prejudices or imaginary inconsistencies, to divide the party and thus aid our enemies to win the victory.

For the Orangeburg Times.
ORANGEBURG, S. C.,
August 26th 1878.

Mr. Editor:

Thursday, August 22d, will probably be marked with a white stone in the calendar of many of the younger citizens of our County, as a day fraught with greater enjoyment has possibly, but seldom heretofore, gladdened their hearts. The popular pastor on Providence circuit planned a picnic to please the children, which came off very happily last week. Eight Sunday schools united harmoniously in a large mass-meeting held at the new Union campground in lower St. Matthews. Two of the schools were Baptist, and thus, again was verified the eloquent language of "The Strange Preacher," "Judah and Simeon with locked shields, pressing the battle to the gates."

Fears were entertained regarding the weather, and anxious eyes were cast towards the heavens, but the sun rose with undimmed lustre, banishing with a rosy blush the fleecy clouds that hung over the portals of morning; and sweet fancy's sunbeams flooded the minds of bright-eyed youth with radiant anticipations outlining with glowing tints the delightful visions, soon to pass in brilliant panorama through the golden hours of the near future.

At half past nine, near one thousand persons were in waiting, and a half hour later, a procession was formed, embracing about one third of the number present. Superintendents and teachers led their respective schools, and seven little hearts doubtless expanded with justifiable pride as seven pair of little hands each bore aloft a beautiful banner over the ranks moving to the inspiring strains of "We are marching to the kingdom." It was a proud moment for them, and your correspondent is not so far advanced down the vale of life, but that vivid recollections of "once upon a time" came drifting back with the echo of years gone by, as the scene there presented, recalled the days when, a careless, happy child, I too, mingled in the ranks, and thought it the highest honor my childhood ever knew, to be permitted to bear the banner in front of classmates and friends.

Considerable disappointment was felt by some on account of the absence of several prominent persons, who were invited, and promised to deliver addresses; however, there was no cause to be disappointed in those that were made.

Master Avinger delivered a salutatory which was followed by recitations from a number of children of the different schools. Mr. Cuttino, a prominent minister of the Baptist Church, then set forth the importance and usefulness of the Sunday school, in a studied address, but the limited time allotted to the speakers, prevented as thorough a discussion as he was prepared to give of the subject.

Mr. W. L. Glaze next made some very fine remarks in a pleasant and impressive manner, the creditable style in which he acquitted himself, rendered rather superfluous his plea of being totally unprepared, for the audience was deeply interested as he enforced the necessity of forming and sustaining an admirable individual character in life in order to be successful. He engaged the attention of the children also, by an occasional "happy word" to them, and closed with an appropriate poetical quotation after fully convincing all present that so much had they to make them happy and cheerful, that if they did not appreciate what was done for them, "Why, my sakes alive," what ought to be done with them?

Rev. J. B. Platt then closed with a short, though touching address, in which he illustrated the beautiful simile whereby the mind of a child is compared to a pure, unwritten page on which each mentor inscribes an epitaph that will be read before the assembled multitudes of the universe, when the great book of life is opened for a final judgment.

After a short intermission, the procession was again formed and marched to the tables, which were arranged in a circle, each school having one appropriated to its use, and more than eight schools were represented there. We will leave it to the imagination to picture the scene that ensued. Great praise is due the projectors and managers of the picnic, and nowhere were their skill and taste better exhibited than in the arrangement of the ample feast that crowned the board. Mr. Shingler, assisted by others, made a very efficient marshal, and Dr. F. W. Dantzer deserves worthy mention for the active part he took in the days proceedings.

In the afternoon, the audience again assembled under the stand, and were entertained with one beautiful song after another, seeming to prefer the charm of music to that of striding over the grounds. There is always something strangely solemn to me in afternoon service, but whether it is caused by the subduing influence of the waning light, the relaxation of mind from more intense effort and its gradual sinking into repose, or, is attributable to the effect of imagination, I cannot tell, but the songs sung then always seem peculiarly mournful, the prayers are sad and touching, and the sermons convey a pitying warning to sinning mortals. Even half-festive as the scene was, I could not effectually banish these sobering reflection on looking over that large crowd and thinking how many times I had seen the vast assemblies under "the stand," that talismanic word to Methodists, at the sound of which memory calls back very tender and sacred associations of the thrilling scenes of long ago, that came and went so fast. Though the necessity that caused its institution, no longer exists, the camp-meeting is bound by too many ties to the hearts of the living, to die out of existence yet awhile, and many are looking forward to a renewal of familiar days long past and gone, as the ground, at which the picnic took place, is being built-up with the expectation of holding a meeting this fall, when, I trust, with equal pleasure, we will all once more gather under the stand at Union.

VIDETTE.
[For the Orangeburg Times.]
JAMISON, S. C.
August 26th, 1878.

Editor Orangeburg Times:
From near and afar the praises of our noble Governor, all proclaim in words of eloquence and truth. It is a fact which no honest citizen can deny, that no one is more entitled to the love of Carolinians than our noble and distinguished Governor.

Washington in 1776, won the love of Americans by the conspicuous part he took in delivering America from British oppression, and Wade Hampton in 1866, forever stamped his image in the hearts of Carolinians by his courage and noble efforts, which, in that never to be forgotten Centennial year, raised Carolina from the ashes of her dissolution and placed her once again aside of her sister States, with a diadem upon her brow, and a sceptre in her hand. The noblest of his achievements was rescuing our good old mother from Radical oppression. While we love and appreciate our deliverers, let us not forget others who have also distinguished themselves as co-laborers of our chieftain in crowning the Democratic party a grand success in this State. Has Wade Hampton appointed proper men to fill the various offices in the different counties? Every just citizen can but acknowledge that in his many appointments in Orangeburg County, he exhibited fine judgment and sagacity. Have the many gentlemen holding offices under Hampton in our county performed the duties of their different positions faithfully and well to Carolina and reflected credit on Wade Hampton? Every just and honest man must answer, "Well done, good and faithful servant."

Mr. Editor, I believe that our Governor can remember his many appointments with feelings of satisfaction and pride. No County can produce a better record than Orangeburg. I know that the office of Trial Justice has been and is yet occupied by worthy gentlemen, whose past career defies criticism. No one has reflected more credit in the discharge of the trying duties of that office than your Trial Justice. It is a general opinion that Wade Hampton again hit the nail on the head, when he appointed Major Watson O' Cain to fill the position; his motto has been justice to all, and he has indeed proven that he knows how to be just, and to give to every man justice according to law. His many friends hope he will retain the office of Trial Justice. That distinguished statesman Patrick Henry once exclaimed, "Give me liberty or give me death." I would say Mr. Editor give me Major O' Cain again for our Trial Justice or give me alterego.

With our distinguished Wade Hampton as our standard bearer, and gentlemen like Hon. S. Dibble, Gen. Izlar, Major Whaley, Col. DeTreville and Major O' Cain, with others I could mention and with the sound judgment of the justly popular ORANGEBURG TIMES to back the Democrats, there can be no doubt of achieving a grand victory in Orangeburg County, a triumph which will deal the final death blow to Radicalism.

EDGAR.
CAW-CAW TOWNSHIP,
August 24, 1878.

Mr. Editor:
There was quite an interesting meeting of a number of the citizens of Caw Caw Township held near Caw Creek on the 24th of August 1878, for the purpose of organizing a military company.

On motion, Jno. N. Hook was requested to take the chair, and Mr. W. F. Ott was elected Secretary. The chairman called the meeting to order, and stated its object in a few brief remarks commending the spirit that prompted the movement. An invitation was then extended to all present who desired to become members of the company, and fifty-five gentlemen promptly responded by reporting their names to the Secretary for enrollment. The organization of the company was next proceeded with by ordering an election for officers which resulted as follows: Capt. Henry Davis, Jr.; 1st Lieut., W. F. Ott; 2nd Lieut., Jno. N. Hook; 3rd Lieut., Loyd Myers; 1st Sergt., D. W. Shuler; 2nd Sergt., A. B. Zeigler; 3rd Sergt., D. R. Hereloug; 4th Sergt., A. F. Ott; 5th Sergt., J. W. Shuler; 1st Corp., J. D. Redman; 2nd Corp., J. R. Hereloug; 3rd Corp., J. D. Stack; 4th Corp., J. M. Kaigler.

There is an encouraging prospect of obtaining quite a number of accessions to our company by the time of next meeting, two weeks hence, as quite a number of our patriotic young men were unavoidably prevented from attending to day's meeting. Caw Light Infantry was adopted as the name of the company.

A resolution, requesting the Secretary to send a copy of these proceedings to the county papers for publication, was unanimously adopted. Much concord, unanimity and harmony prevailed, and the promise is that quite an efficient organization will be maintained in this section.

W. F. OTT,
Secretary.

P. A. LEFVENDAHL

Has opened a SHOE SHOP

at
A. B. Walker's Store

Where he is prepared to make to order BOOTS and SHOES on the shortest notice. Also Repairing done with neatness and dispatch.
All work warranted and prices moderate. Give me a trial.
aug 31 1878 1y

WHEAT WHEAT WHEAT

I have on the way a lot of very choice AMBER May and WHITE May

WHEAT SEED
Expressly bought for sowing. The grain is FULL, BRIGHT, PERFECT. The quantity is limited, and price LOWER than it will be a month later.

RED R. P. OATS

Direct from the G. & C. R. R. This Seed is as PURE as it is possible to get them.

ALSO
A lot of Stono Acid for composting for Small Grain at $3 25 per sack of 200 pounds.
JOHN A. HAMILTON,
Next to Mr. G. H. Cornelison.

July 6-1f

THEODORE KOHN

IS NOW

RECEIVING

THE

MOST EXTENSIVE,

THE

BEST SELECTED,

AND THE CHEAPEST

STOCK OF

FALL

AND

WINTER GOODS

Please Call

THEODORE KOHN.

ap 6 1878 c

NOTICE

Taken up on the night of 15th instant 3 miles below McCantsville on the state Road, a Red Cow with some White and frosty Spots. The animal has Horns and marked with a Crop and Under Bit in right Ear, and a Swallow Fork in the left. The owner can get the Cow at McCantsville by paying for this advertisement.

JULIUS A. EDWARDS,
Trial Justice.

aug 21 1878 2t

NOTICE
TO CAPITALISTS AND FARMERS

At a recent meeting of the Orangeburg Agricultural and Mechanical Association, the undersigned were appointed a Committee to solicit Subscriptions in Shares of $25 each, for the purpose of establishing a Manufacturing of Cotton Yarns in Orangeburg, by the Machine known as the Clement's Attachment. It is estimated that a Capital Stock of $25,000 will be sufficient to inaugurate the Enterprise on a prosperous basis.

Subscription Lists will be found at Mr. Kirk Robinson's Grange Store, and with Mr. J. L. Heidman, corner Church and St. Paul's Streets. Further information can be obtained from those gentlemen, or from Mr. Harpin Riggs.

SAMUEL DIBBLE,
MORGAN J. KELLER,
KIRK ROBINSON,
JOHN S. BOWMAN,
JAMES STOKES,

aug 17-1f Committee,
The State of South Carolina.

ORANGEBURG COUNTY.
In the Common Pleas.

Amanda C. Wingard, wife of A. A. Wingard, Plaintiff, against Hattie A. E. Weeks and others, Defendants.

Pursuant to the Order of the Court in the above stated case, I will sell before the Court House, in Orangeburg, on Monday the 24th day of September next, during the usual hours of sale, the Mill and Mill Privileges, and Fixtures, formerly belonging to Jady Weeks, deceased, and located on that portion of his lands in Orangeburg County, allotted, on the partition of his Estate, to H. A. E. Weeks. Terms cash.

W. M. Hutson, Master.
August 12, 1878. 17-3t

The State of South Carolina
COUNTY OF ORANGEBURG.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.
Hannah Marcus, Plaintiff against L. P. Rast, Defendant.

Copy Summons for Relief (Complaint not served.)

To the Defendant L. P. Rast—
You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint in this action, which is filed in the Office of Common Pleas, for the said County, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the undersigned at his office, Orangeburg, South Carolina within twenty days after the service hereof, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated July 30th A. D. 1878.
JAS. F. IZLAR,
Plaintiff's Attorney.

To L. P. RAST, Defendant above named—
Take notice that the Summons and Complaint herein were filed in the Office of the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas for Orangeburg County South Carolina, on the 30th day of July A. D. 1878.

August 11th, 1878.

JAS. F. IZLAR,
Plaintiff's Attorney.

aug 17

SHERIDAN'S
Male School

The Exercises of this School will be resumed at the Fair Building on the First Monday in September next.

TERMS PER MONTH

1st Grade, Beginners.....$2 00
2d " Grammar Pupils.....2 50
3d " Advanced English.....3 00
Latin and Greek 50 cents extra each.

Board in excellent families, near the School Rooms, may be obtained at $10 and $12 per month.

This School is designed to be a Permanent Institution of Orangeburg, and with a liberal patronage the Principal will make it a complete success.

HUGO G. SHERIDAN, Principal.

TAKE NOTICE.

The undersigned respectfully informs the Citizens of the Town and County that he is prepared to do up and make Mattresses on the shortest notice. Also will conduct an Upholstery business. Prices will be as low as possible. Orders solicited.

JOHN ORGEN.

June 9
Columbia Female Academy.

MISS ELMORE, Principal.

Miss C. E. PUTNAM, Associate Principal.

THIS INSTITUTION, FOUNDED BY the gift of the State of South Carolina to an association of gentlemen for educational purposes, has long held high rank among the many good schools of our country. Under its present management it will not be suffered to fall short of what the public has a right to demand.

The course of study has been well selected and the different branches thrown into special departments. Kindergarten and Calisthenics form a part of the course.

For testimonials &c., see circular, for which, apply to MISS ELMORE, Columbia, S. C.

The next session begins SEPTEMBER 30th 1878.

REFERENCES:
Governor Hampton.
Hon. H. S. Thompson, State Superintendent of Education.
Hon. L. F. Youngs, Attorney-General.
Hon. A. C. Haskell, Associate Justice.
Dr. B. M. Palmer, New Orleans, La.

aug 10 6t

NOW
STOP RIGHT HERE!

And find out that you can get

5 lbs best Rio Coffee for $1.
10 lbs Extra C. Sugar for $1.
25 lbs Fine Family Flour for $1.
8 lbs Pure Leaf Lard for $1.

All kinds of fresh

CANNED GOODS
Table Salt 20 cts a box.
Fresh Pickles,
Best Smoking Tobacco,
Choice Cigars,

and the Purest and Finest Liquors ever offered in Orangeburg.

JAS VAN TASSEL, Agt.
At Muller's Old Stand.
mar 16 1878 4f